DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 3 and 5-6 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 6,318,925 to Bowers et al. in view of US 5,855,182 to Kline et al. Bowers discloses a vehicle component escutcheon comprising the following:

- a. A shifter face plate assembly for a shifter rod and a shifter rod support in a floor console having a console opening comprising: a top plate 52 through which the shifter rod projects and having a window (Fig. 1A); and an intermediary plate 10 supporting the top plate (claim 3.)
- b. An anti-rattle tab 24 biasingly extending between the top plate and the intermediary plate to resist relative movement between the plates (col 5, lines 50-54) (claim 5.)

Bowers does not teach the top plate being shiftable. Kline teaches a floor shifter and console assembly comprising the following:

- a. A top plate 62 being shiftable longitudinally with respect to the intermediary plate to position the top plate aesthetically within the console opening (col 1, lines 37-43) (claim 3.)

- b. Shiftable longitudinally includes an adjustment slot 80 on one of said top plate and said intermediary plate and a guide tab 78 on the other of said top plate and said intermediary plate (col 3, lines 12-15) (claim 6.)

Re claim 3, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to modify the escutcheon of Bowers to include a top plate that is longitudinally and laterally shiftable as taught by Kline so as to eliminate the need to adjust the plate after the plate is installed (col 1, lines 34-44.) Re claim 6, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to modify the escutcheon of Bowers to include an intermediary plate having an adjustment slot and a top plate having a guide tab as taught by Kline so as to maintain the plate assembly in the proper vertical orientation (col 3, lines 12-15.)

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir.

1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-2 stand rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 2 of U.S. Patent No. 6,843,521 to Oana. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claim 2 of '521 recites the all of the limitations recited in claims 1 and 2 of the present application.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claim 8 is allowed.

4. Claims 4 and 7 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
